INTRODUCTION

Tiếng Anh 4 – Global Success is developed to teach English for Grade 4 pupils as a foreign language (EFL) at primary level. The book follows the curriculum approved by the Ministry of Education and Training in December 2018.

Tiếng Anh 4 – Global Success is communication-based and topic-based in design and learning-centred in teaching methodology. Its aim is to acquaint pupils with very basic English language components and skills with an emphasis on listening and speaking.

Note: English words can be transcribed phonetically in different ways. We use the symbols in Oxford Learner's Dictionaries to present the phonetic transcription of the English words in Tiếng Anh 4 (as well as Tiếng Anh 3 and Tiếng Anh 5) – Global Success.

UNIT STRUCTURE

The Student's Book is designed in accordance with a basic sequence of presentation, practice and production to develop English for primary school pupils. It is comprised of a Starter unit, 20 topic-based learning units and four Review sections. These are richly illustrated and contain cross-curricular elements to provide pupils with easy-to-grasp and memorable lessons, as well as an enjoyable English language learning experience.

Each unit consists of three lessons on a topic related to one of the following four themes: Me and My Friends, Me and My School, Me and My Family and Me and the World Around. All are designed to invoke a sense of familiarity, with activities organised so as to develop and provide plenty of opportunity for pupils to practise their listening, speaking, reading and writing skills.

Each lesson provides material for two teaching periods (equal to 70 minutes in total). Lessons contain concise and clear instructions for a wide range of activities arranged in logical progression, helping pupils to develop critical thinking, interaction and coordination among themselves as they practise using English in both spoken and written forms.

Each unit also aims to develop pupils' ability to reproduce language in a variety of fun and engaging activities including a chant, a song and a game, as well as a project at the end of the unit.

The appearance of both Vietnamese and foreign characters in the book, such as Linh, Mai, Minh, Nam, Ben, Bill, Lucy and Mary, creates a feeling of familiarity and makes the book more authentic.

The main components of the units in the Student's Book are organised and briefly described as follows.

LESSON 1

1. Look, listen and repeat.

This activity presents target vocabulary and structures in cartoon form to provide pupils with visual support for reading, listening and speaking practice.

2. Listen, point and say.

This activity provides controlled practice of target vocabulary and structures. Pupils listen to the teacher's model or the recording, point at each visual and textual prompt and repeat the new words and structures. Then they practise using the vocabulary in the new structures in some mechanical drills such as repetition, substitution and question-and-answer in pairs.

3. Let's talk.

This activity presents different situations in which pupils practise the vocabulary and structures they have learnt in a freer context. Visual and textual prompts guide pupils as they interact with their peers. This activity also encourages pupils to use the language in real contexts.

4. Listen and circle / number / tick / tick or cross / match.

This activity focuses on improving listening skills. In some units, pupils look at pairs of pictures as they listen to the recording and show their understanding by circling the correct picture or putting a tick (✓) in the appropriate box. In other units, pupils tick (✓) or cross (✗), match or number the pictures while listening.

5. Look, complete and read.

This activity provides an opportunity for pupils to use the vocabulary and structures they have learnt in Lesson 1, supported by visual and / or textual prompts.

6. Let's play / sing.

This activity is an opportunity for pupils to practise using and responding to English in a fun and engaging way. Easy-to-learn songs help pupils practise the pronunciation, rhythm and melody of English, while easy-to-play games encourage pupils to apply the language in real contexts. Through singing songs and playing games, pupils also interact and cooperate with each other.

LESSON 2

The activities in Lesson 2 follow the same pattern as in Lesson 1. The difference is that the activities in Lesson 1 focus on the first competence of the unit while the ones in Lesson 2 concentrate on the second competence. In some units, the vocabulary and structures in Lesson 1 are combined with those in Lesson 2.

LESSON 3

1. Listen and repeat.

This activity focuses on the letters and sounds (phonics) which appear frequently in the target vocabulary or structures of the unit, with a particular focus on those that young Vietnamese learners might find problematic. Pupils become familiar with the sounds of the letters in the words and sentences by listening and repeating. In the last five units, pupils familiarise themselves with word stress.

2. Listen and circle / tick.

In this listening activity, pupils show their recognition and understanding of the phonics or word stress they have learnt by circling or ticking the correct options.

3. Let's chant.

This activity is a chant that contains the phonics sounds or word stress and the target vocabulary and structures that pupils have learnt in the unit. Learning through chants is a useful way for pupils to practise the pronunciation and rhythm of English, which is very different to that of Vietnamese.

4. Read and match / answer.

This activity provides pupils with a simple introduction to reading. Pupils show their understanding of the text through matching text with pictures, filling the gaps, answering the questions, choosing the correct answers or putting a tick (✓) in True or False boxes. In others, it asks pupils to read and choose the correct answers, complete the gaps or write the answers.

5. Let's write.

This activity provides freer practice of writing by using the target vocabulary and structures of the unit to complete a gapped text.

6. Project

In this activity, pupils are guided through a creative project closely linked with the topic of the unit. The purpose of the project is to foster cooperation and interaction within the class by getting pupils to do a real task as homework before presenting it to the class.

As previously mentioned, each unit consists of three lessons. Each lesson includes six activities which cover two periods. The teaching plan is as follows:

| | | | |
|-----------------|-------------------------------|-----------------|-------------------------------|
| Period 1 | Lesson 1 (Activities 1, 2, 3) | Period 2 | Lesson 1 (Activities 4, 5, 6) |
| Period 3 | Lesson 2 (Activities 1, 2, 3) | Period 4 | Lesson 2 (Activities 4, 5, 6) |
| Period 5 | Lesson 3 (Activities 1, 2, 3) | Period 6 | Lesson 3 (Activities 4, 5, 6) |

Note: Details of the teaching plans (lesson plans) are suggested in the second section of Tiếng Anh 4 – Global Success - Teacher's Book (after the Introduction).

REVIEW

The Review and Extension activities sections follow each set of five units. They aim to help pupils revise the target language they have learnt through a diverse range of activities.

The Review sections generally consist of five activities: 1. Listen and tick / number. 2. Ask and answer. 3. Read and match. 4. Read and complete. 5. Let's write.

The Extension activities in Review sections are designed to help pupils apply the target language they have learnt through playing games, drawing and describing pictures, and doing some content and language integrated learning (CLIL) activities.

The activities in the Review sections take the same form as the activities in the learning units.

TEACHING THE ACTIVITIES IN THE UNITS AND REVIEW SECTIONS

The following guidelines are for you to refer to when you first use this coursebook with your class. Feel free to make any adjustments, as you know best what you need to teach and what your pupils need to learn, within your own teaching and learning contexts.

It is advisable to go through the activities of each unit and the teaching notes before you go into the classroom. This will help you familiarise yourself with the material, know what to prepare for the lesson and identify which activities to teach.

As mentioned, the teaching and learning of English at primary level follows the learning-centred approach. To enable this, each activity contains four components: a goal, an input, a procedure and an outcome (G-I-P-O). G-I-P-O is a logical sequence in which the goal of the activity is set, the input (the context and the language) is presented, a step-by-step procedure is followed (through which pupils practise and produce the target language) and the outcome is subsequently achieved.

Activity types vary, with pupils carrying them out individually, in pairs, in groups and / or as a whole class. This provides pupils with speaking and writing practice, and the opportunity to develop the ability to interact with each other in English.

The following is a brief description of G-I-P-O:

Goal: A clear goal should be established before starting an activity. A goal is what your pupils will achieve – that is, what they will be able to do – by the end of the activity. This is very important, allowing both you and your pupils to know what is expected in order to perform well.

Input: The input is the language (written and / or spoken) and the particular context(s) (visual prompts, guides / cues) in which the language is used or presented, and which will enable pupils to complete the activity. Language items should be introduced in a clear and authentic way, and illustrations should be attractive and colourful. To help pupils understand the context of a particular activity, ask questions such as Who are in the picture? Where are they? and What are they doing? You could also use gestures or show related pictures. Use English or Vietnamese flexibly, depending on the language proficiency of the class.

Procedure: The procedure is a step-by-step breakdown of what you should do and how pupils can achieve the objective (outcome). Steps vary depending on the activity, but all are designed to enable pupils to understand the context and target language and to provide plenty of listening, speaking, reading and writing practice.

Outcome: The outcome is what pupils can do at the end of the activity. Reflecting the goal established at the start of the activity, it details what they have learnt and how they are able to use it, whether they are listening, speaking, reading or writing.

The following is a brief description of how G-I-P-O is used in teaching the first three activities in Lesson 1 of the units.

1. Look, listen and repeat.

Goal: Pupils are able to understand and correctly repeat the sentences in two communicative contexts in which characters use the target language of the lesson.

Input: This activity provides two communicative contexts in which characters are introduced and use the target language.

Procedure: Step 1: Set the goal, introduce the target language competence and explain what pupils should do to achieve it. Check pupils' understanding. Use simple English words and phrases.

Step 2: Ask pupils to look at the pictures, point at the characters and briefly discuss with the class what they think is happening. Elicit answers by asking questions such as What can you see in the pictures? Who are the speakers? What are they saying / doing? Encourage pupils to guess the meaning of the target language based on what they can see in the pictures or other visual prompts such as flash cards and posters.

Step 3: Play the recording and encourage pupils to point at the characters or the language while listening.

Step 4: Play the recording again, sentence by sentence, for pupils to listen to, point at the sentences and repeat. Correct their pronunciation where necessary.

Step 5: Invite a few pairs of pupils to listen to and repeat or act out the conversations in front of the class.

Outcome: Pupils can understand and correctly repeat the sentences in the contexts.

2. Listen, point and say.

Goal: Pupils are able to learn the new words and structure patterns.

Input: This activity usually contains four pictures and four new words or phrases under the pictures. The sentence patterns are introduced in two or three speech bubbles, one with a question and one or two with the answer. The activity also includes the recording of the words and the conversations between the characters.

- Procedure:
- Step 1: Ask pupils to look or point at the pictures and identify the pictures and the words / phrases. Check pupils' understanding of the vocabulary and give explanations if necessary using flash cards and gestures.
 - Step 2: Play the recording for pupils to listen to and repeat the words / phrases under the pictures, in chorus and individually, until they feel confident.
 - Step 3: Draw pupils' attention to the speech bubbles and elicit the missing words by pointing at the pictures. Play the recording for pupils to listen to and repeat the sentences in the speech bubbles a few times.
 - Step 4: Have pupils practise asking and answering questions in the conversations in pairs.
 - Step 5: Invite a few pairs to act out the conversations in front of the class.
- Outcome: Pupils can correctly say the words and use the structure patterns to achieve the language competence.

3. Let's talk.

- Goal: Pupils are able to apply the target language in freer / real contexts.
- Input: This activity usually consists of some contextual pictures and a gapped exchange that pupils have learnt in the lesson.
- Procedure:
- Step 1: Inform the class about the objective of the activity (as in Goal).
 - Step 2: Draw pupils' attention to the pictures to identify the context (as in Input).
 - Step 3: Elicit the missing words in the speech bubbles and / or write them on the board. Get pupils to say the completed exchange.
 - Step 4: Put pupils into pairs to practise the exchanges. Then invite a few pairs to point at the pictures and ask and answer questions.
 - Extension: If time allows, have pupils work in pairs to act out the exchanges in real contexts.
- Outcome: Pupils can apply the target language (vocabulary and sentence patterns) in freer / real contexts.

CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT AND ACTIVITIES

Warm-up

A warm-up activity lasting just two to five minutes is a great way to engage pupils at the start of a lesson. It is also helpful for revising the previous lesson and leading into the new one. The warm-up activities in Tiếng Anh 4 – Global Success vary so that you can choose the most suitable ones for your class. For example, you might get pupils to sing a song, say a chant, play a game or act out the exchanges they have learnt.

Ending a lesson

It is a good idea to establish a consistent and easily recognisable way of ending each lesson, such as raising a hand, clapping twice or tapping the board. This will ensure that the final activity is wrapped up promptly and effectively.

If there is time, you can round off the lesson with a song, rhyme, chant or game.

Pair work

If the number of pupils in your class is uneven, two pupils can share one role. Pupils should change their partners regularly in order to vary the working atmosphere. You can invite a "closed pair" (two pupils who sit next to each other) or an “open pair” (two pupils who sit apart from each other in the classroom) to demonstrate an activity when necessary.

Group work

When setting up group work, a fun and effective way is to organise pupils according to the similar criteria, e.g. those pupils with the same hobby or birthday. Help groups work well together by checking that each pupil understands their role, and praise pupils when they cooperate.

When pupils work in pairs or groups, it is important to monitor them. Circulate and focus on their ability to use English, as well as any problems or difficulties they encounter during the activity. This will help you identify areas that would benefit from revision and further practice. Offer help when necessary, but remember not to interfere with pupils' work or correct all of their mistakes. Let them work independently.

Activities should be timed and ended before pupils lose interest or become distracted. Establish a consistent and easily recognisable way of signalling the end of an activity, such as putting your hand up or clapping twice.

Young learners love to be praised. When pupils perform an activity well, it is a good idea to praise them by saying good, very good, great, well done, excellent, etc. If a pupil cannot do a task, it is advisable to encourage them by saying Try again or Have another go.

Total Physical Response (TPR)

TPRs are actions done as commanded by the teacher. They help pupils associate language with particular actions, which enhances their understanding. This is a fun way to help pupils understand the language without putting too much emphasis, at this early stage, on producing accurate English. TPR may be used as follows:

- Say or play the recording of a word or phrase and do the action.
- Repeat the word or phrase and have pupils do the action.
- Repeat the previous step a few times, then ask pupils to repeat the word while doing the action.

CLASSROOM LANGUAGE

Right from primary level, English should be used for instructions and classroom management, as this will reinforce pupils' learning. In order to support their understanding, accompany your English with gestures. Vietnamese may be used when introducing something for the first time.

Instructions should be simple, clear and consistent to ensure pupils feel comfortable and know what they are required to do. If pupils are confused, Vietnamese may be used to help them understand and to make sure that they can perform the activities successfully.

Classroom language should be simple and clear. Both receptive language and productive language can be used. Receptive language is what pupils hear and respond to, such as an instruction, while productive language is the language they use when interacting with the teacher or with other pupils.
